Present – Staff- Miss Appleton, Mrs Tolley

Students-Callum, Meghan, Danyal, Hamza, Courtney W, Adam, Zafran, Owen

Purpose of meeting

To give feedback from teacher interview answers

I welcomed all of the members back following half term, they all stated that they had enjoyed their week off. I reminded them that before the holiday they had been asked by Mrs Hunter to compile a list of questions that they would like to ask the prospective teachers during their interview process. I explained that I had a copy of all of the answers for us to look at.

As there were 10 questions each for the 7 teachers being interviewed I explained that we wouldn't be looking at each individual question. The one that we focused on initially was "can you tell us a joke?" I read each joke out to the students they then narrowed them down to their favourite three. These were

- Why didn't the skeleton go to the party? Because he had no body to go with!
- Why did the chicken cross the road? To see his flat mate!
- What's black and white and 'read' all over? Yesterday's newspaper!

To decide which was the overall favourite each member voted for the one that they liked best. The winner with twice as many votes as the other jokes was the chicken joke! I then asked if anyone had a joke they would like to share with us, there was only Courtney who volunteered. It was a 'knock knock' joke which went like this;

Knock knock

Who's there?

Monkey

Monkey who?

Monkey eating coconuts!

Next we discussed whether the spice girls or take that were the better group. School council members were split right down the middle in their opinion with exactly 50% of the vote going to each group. The potential teachers favoured the spice girls which pleased half of the members.

Before the meeting was closed I asked if there was anything that anyone would like to discuss. Meghan said that she "wondered if there was going to be anything organised because of Miss Colbourne leaving". It was decided that it would be a lovely idea to do something, so all members were to go back to their forms and discuss ideas of what we could do for Miss Colbourne and bring all of the ideas to next week's meeting.

Meeting closed 2.52PM
