

Induction Feedback - Post 14 Starters 2022

I liked having the home visit and staff taking the time to get to know us.

The transition was very good from Ridge to Post 14. The taster sessions were good. An induction plan was individualised to meet my son's needs and school were really accommodating.

I have always wondered how the two sites one ethos would work. Although there is a different drop off and collection process to adapt to, the philosophy of the staff is the same. It is still one Pens Meadow family.

It was strange the first two weeks having the new routine and getting used to new ways of working. However, it has been great. My son visited lots before he transitioned. He already knew the environment because of attending ASAC.

It is nice for them to catch up with young people who they used to know and former staff who used to work with them.

I appreciated staff being at Post 14 who already knew my son and facilitated a seamless transition. He has done well in adapting to school life at Post 14.

I think it is brilliant that there are people there who really know him, and I am so happy. I think that the class teacher is so lovely thoughtful, and kind and I love her. She just can't do enough for you.

I like the fact that staff will move up to Post 14 who know them.

The Teachers are lovely, support staff are lovely and whoever you ring in admin are lovely, now everyone is familiar to me.

I now tell other parents how much they are going to love it.
